A WIN FOR CARMEL

Hill And Fischer Cited As Heroes

The heroism of Bill Hill, a volunteer fireman, and the bravery of Edward F. Fischer, a police officer, were honored by the city last night. Both were accorded standing resolutions of commendation by the city council plus a $100 cash award for valor.

Hill's commendation stated that last month "At the risk of his own life, Bill Hill entered the surf at the mouth of the Carmel River to rescue Mrs. Martha E. Jackson. He braved bone-chilling water and fifteen-foot waves to reach Mrs. Jackson who had drifted some 300 yards offshore. Had it not been for Bill Hill's quick thinking, immediate response, and his willingness to risk his own life in the surf, Mrs. Jackson could not have been saved.

"His outstanding bravery exemplifies the highest and finest traditions of the American people. By his actions, he has brought the greatest credit to himself, the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department, his City, and to all of the young athletes known as 'surfers,' the resolution concluded.

Hill, present last night, stressed credit should be shared with "McAnaney's Navy" and the helicopter crew from the Naval Air Facility for their part in the rescue.

Fischer's commendation read as follows: "On June 3, 1964, Officer Fischer responded to a call which ordered a search of the business district for the person who had robbed a local store at gunpoint. Officer Fischer found a suspect in

CARMEL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Two Carmel High Varsity players, Doug Adams (24) and Terry Mols (20) vie for possession of the ball in the game against Ceres High School during last weekend's Carmel Invitational Basketball Tournament. Ceres players are Gary Sexton (44), Tim Oltman (31) and Larry Collins (32).

Override Tax Passes

The 37 cent override tax for five years and extension of an existing override tax for four years after June 30, 1968, were approved by a majority of 1,371 voters in the Carmel Unified School District on Tuesday. Affirmative majorities were received in eight of the nine precincts. The one precinct with a majority of NO votes (126-95) was in Pebble Beach where voting took place at Del Monte Lodge. Absentee ballots tallied 108 NO votes against 65 YES tallies. Total votes in the district were 3,573 for the overrides and 2,202 against them.

CITY COUNCIL

Hold Action On Business Fees

Businessmen who spoke at the city council meeting last night appeared willing to accept a 50 percent increase in business license fees provided such a raise would bring advantages to the business community. All 700 business license holders had been informed by the city that an increase was contemplated in order to bring in added revenue during the first three months of the fiscal year and as a result there was standing room only in the council chambers. Increased costs in city services to the commercial district was given as the reason for the business license increase.

However, comment on the 152 percent increase in city expenses during the past ten years by J. O. Handley, triggered a tirade from Councilman Gunnar Norberg which included the businessmen present, his fellow councilmen, the Carmel Unified School District override tax and administration, also the press for supporting the override, until he was ruled out of order by Mayor Stephen Grant.

Any action on the increase was postponed until the council's April 5 meeting in order that the adjusted scale of fees may be studied by the business community. Copies of the scale will be available, free, at city hall this afternoon.

In reference to Mayor Grant's statement that city costs, in the past ten years, had risen 152 percent and revenue only 55 percent, Handley stated he was "quite shocked" that the city had not "studied the possibility of cutting this tremendous expense," and added that he could not understand how the city had been in a position to double its salary account in the past eight years. He would like to see the city sales and motel taxes increased but not the property tax, he stressed. He had no objection to the proposed increase in business license fees, as long as "everyone else's fees are raised, too."

"I'm here to say I do not object to the business license increase but to oppose any ceiling on retail sales in connection with a percentage-wise increase," James Rowe told the council. (The proposed ceiling in this area is $750.)

Mark Raggett, drygoods store owner, informed the council that Carmel businessmen are "willing to pay our way" in respect to increased license fees to cover increased costs.

"Today Carmel is a beautiful shopping center without parking," he pointed out in emphasizing that in the past the Carmel Business Association had asked the city council to double business license fees as a specified means of raising funds for off-street parking. Revenue from the increase, now planned to go in the city's general fund, would make it doubly difficult if future recommendations are that businessmen assume the responsibility of acquiring off-street parking. "We cannot stand too much of a load," he emphasized.

Clark Coppock, a travel agent, stated he was willing to accept the increase. So, too did George Jennings, but asked "Is it not possible for the city council to make economies?" He questioned whether or not Sunset Center were a liability.

Ed Denniston, tax consultant for I. Magnin & Co., told the council he may have remarks on the business license increase when the matter comes up again in April.

EIGHT FILE FOR BOARD OF EDUCATION

Eight candidates have filed for election on April 18 to three vacancies on the board of education of the Carmel Unified School District. They are Dr. Hilton M. Blalock and Steven H. Sassoon, incumbents; William H. Carlson, retired business executive; Dorothy Woodward Jones, housewife; Ag-

'Ah Wilderness!' Is Charming As Presented At Circle Theatre

Theatre in the round presentation of Eugene O'Neill's "Ah Wilderness!" brings the audience into the midst of the stage action at the Circle Theatre and on opening night this close association evoked laughter and empathy as the audience shared the timeless joys, sorrows and rebellions of adolescence with the Miller family in 1906, on the Fourth of July and the following day.

The burden of the play falls on the slight shoulders of Wayne Kendall who sensitively plays the part of Richard Miller, a senior in high school. He is on stage during seven scenes of three acts and progresses through amusingly rebellious reactions to the realities of the adult world, the touching throes of first love, a mirthful experience with a "woman of the world" and too much imbibing all with the delightful naivete underlying the false sophistication of a young man of his age.

Sam and Edie Karas immeasurably add to the development of the play as they humorously and understandingly portray Richard's parents, Nat and Essie Miller, who are involved not only with the life of a high school senior, but also the lives of two other sons, Arthur, a callow Yale freshman, and young Tommy, whose fire-crackers boom offstage, also a pretty daughter, Mildred, at the bouncy threshold of womanhood.

These parts are well played respectively, by Allen E. Yates, Scot Smythe and Kitty Hendrix.

A contrast to the close, loving life of the Miller parents, are the lives of Nat's spinster sister, Lily, admirably played by Florence Larsen, and Sid Davis, Essie's bachelor brother, a role comically and tellingly portrayed by Richard Bird.

Mary Faulkner is winsome in the part of Richard's teenage sweetheart who braves the edict of an irascible father to meet her true love on a moonlit beach.

Norton Goldman adds to the comedy of "Ah Wilderness!" as Muriel's father and in the end proves to be not as unlikable as he first appeared.

Elizabeth Klein is lovely as a naughty enchantress who frustratingly draws Richard as her unwilling partner in the back room of a bar in a small hotel. George, a bartender played by Harry Graham, and a salesman, a part taken by Marshall Hambro, add humor to this scene. The young college man who involved teenage Richard in this scrape is satisfactorily interpreted by Robert Dreggors. Ruth Fry, as the Millers' maid, Nora, adds more laughter provoking action.

Taken as a whole, "Ah Wilderness!" is a charming period piece placed in a "large small-town in Connecticut" in which Nat Miller is the owner of a newspaper, The Evening Globe. Interwoven in the play's dialogue and staging is a picture of unhurried life in this country at the turn of the century.

Norman McPhee has done a fine job in directing the cast so that the spirit and atmosphere of 1906 is recreated. Marge Hirshkind, costume coordinator, and Jeanne Morgan, in charge of costume construction, have done sup-

Suburban Area Corporation Plan Meets Defeat By Narrow Vote

Unrest flared into opposition against reorganization of the Carmel Suburban Area Council into a nonprofit, tax exempt corporation Monday night at the Mission Ranch. Defeated by a 19-16 standing vote was a motion to proceed with the incorporation under the name of Carmel Suburban Area 43 for which articles were filed last week along with a request for tax exemption.

Unrest centered on the Carmel Suburban Area Council's activities in the formation of Monterey County Service Area No. 43 by the board of supervisors, also the council's actions in seeking purchase of a fire truck for the service area.

At the request of John S. Coates, council president, John Wade, State Forest Ranger from King City, told the 50 or so persons present that two bids had been received for the fire truck and that of the van Pelt company of Oakdale was satisfactory — cost, with tax, $31,000. He set "some time in November" as the date of delivery. He added that yesterday, a committee of the suburban area council was to meet with representatives of the division of forestry to discuss costs of manning and operating the fire truck to be stationed at the division's Carmel Hill Station, under a contract with the division.

The service area will be administered by Bruce McClain, Monterey County road commissioner and, upon his approval of the fire truck proposed, a county purchase order will be issued, Wade stated. A property tax levied in Service Area No. 43 will pay for the purchase and operation of the fire truck.

In answer to a question from Francis P. Lloyd (Mission Tract), Wade said that "no less than three men will be needed to operate one truck for an effective job." Later, in reply to Brig. Gen. Robert P. Williams (Ret.), (Mission Tract), Wade stated that "one truck is not enough" for Service Area No. 43 and Service Area No. 42, both of which the piece of equipment will serve, and that eventually more pieces of equipment up to the number of three will be derior work in recreating the period, too. Derek Lawford, technical production manager, and Wendy Thaler, stage manager, have added their abilities to the recreation, also Christa Miller, whose properties include some wondrous lamps. Sound and lighting is ably handled by Charles Richmond.

The Circle Theatre was filled on opening night and will be also on every Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights at 8:30 p.m. during the run of "Ah Wilderness!" judging by the evident enjoyment of the audience. Laughter rang and eyes filled as everyone joined the Miller family—in their home and in their lives.

"Ah Wilderness!" is a presentation of the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula. M.L.

PLAY AT STUDIO THEATRE HELD OVER

"Catch Me If You Can" has been so successful at the Studio that it is being held over another week-end through March 18. The cast has been doing an excellent job of presenting this mystery tale mixed with comedy. On attending the play last Sunday, a San Francisco visitor remarked "Isn't it amazing that the Studio management can do such a good job of casting in a small town like Carmel."

would only represent its members before the board of supervisors.

"Do you want the corporation and recommended changes in the by-laws?" Daly asked after considerable questioning by those present.

Wilson moved completion of the incorporation of Carmel Suburban Area 43. Dr. Don Harrison (Rancho Rio Vista) seconded the motion. Lloyd called for the vote. Result was 19 votes against the corporation, 16 for it.

During discussion on the motion, James P. van Loben Sels (Carmel Point) expressed dissatisfaction with the Carmel Suburban Area Council's activities in the formation of Service Area 43. "I can't find out who voted for officers who represented me," he declared and added that he was not against formation of the corporation. "We've got Service Area 43 now and those who pay taxes have the right to be heard. You are going to hear from me," he concluded.

Following adjournment President Coates said that he would proceed with calling the regular April meeting of the Carmel Suburban Area Council on the first Monday of the month.

FIRE AT BUDD HOME

On Monday night at 10:35 p.m. the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department was roused by a call which sent them to the residence of Mrs. Paul L. Budd on San Antonio Street between Eighth and Ninth avenues.

The fire was confined to the garage of the house. A total of 21 firemen fought the blaze until the all clear was sounded at 12:07 a.m.

No cause for the fire, which consumed the garage and a car inside, has been discovered and as yet no estimate of the damage has been reported.

LINES FROM

THE STUDIO

We're dumbfounded. "Catch Me If You Can" has played to full houses every night since it opened. When we chose it, we knew it had a wonderfully ingenious plot and funny lines. And naturally we're proud of our versatile cast of Carolyn Evans, Bob Lotz, Jim Jordan, Neil Kaye and James Francina. But it's not as well-known a play as many and this is meant to be the slack season. It must have something! We're so delighted at its success that we're holding it over for an extra weekend. Hence five more nights to see it—this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and next Friday and Saturday. Dinner and show $5.50, show alone $2.75. A minor embarrassment: we're running short of programs! Come anyway and find out why!

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

CARNIVAL THIS WEEKEND

The "fun" event of the year takes place Saturday at Robert Louis Stevenson School when the annual carnival, bazaar and auction opens its "doors" to the public, at 11:00 a.m.

Organized by the Sponsors Club, under the direction of the club's president, Mrs. Thomson J. Hudson, the program includes 15 carnival booths, several unique bazaar stands, a rip-snorting auction with Ernie Ford, Tom Hudson and Bud Hobbs on the "block," plus music, hamburgers, soft drinks and a ticket drawing topped by a beautiful color TV set.

Rick Besson, on behalf of the student body, has developed a wonderful Carnival Day with games, music, food and walking exhibits. While the hamburger stand (with the Gnomes and Steve Barlow) is always popular, it will be hard pressed by the Dunk-A-Teacher booth run by Kirk Barr, John McMahan, Dick Cotchett and Tom Hudson. Josh Mack and the Freshman Class will have a Haunted House and an interesting "new" feature will be the Wedding Chapel.

The Smash-A-Car run by Mark Farber, Pete Funston and Bob Melone will be of special interest to some, while the Plate Toss will appeal to others. Husbands worried about missing golf on Saturday will have a miniature course available run by Barry Nathan, Art Lara, Willis Cook and John Konggaard, and if you get out of "jail," there is the Balloon Burst, the Ring-a-Toss and the Wheel-of-Fortune.

John Urist, handling decorations, promises a modified Gay Nineties-Roaring Twenties theme, while the Rubber Bands promise some snappy music. Assisting in organization are Jim Booth, Pierre LaLande, Pat Rauber and all class presidents, plus a student staff of 45. Pete Stremmel did the carnival posters.

SPORTS: The Spring schedule started last week with tennis and golf, followed today by the first track meet against Carmel and Gonzales at Carmel. Tennis Coach Jerry Keuhn started his "netters" against the University of California frosh with the doubles team of Steve Dart and Geoff Haynes winning their match, while Mike Machette, Ron Marston, Ed Scott and Ken Drummond dropped their matches. In spite of the losses, Coach Keuhn was pleased at the strong early season play against the college team.

Also facing a college team this past week were the golfers under Coach Dave Wilson. Taking on the Stanford Varsity on their home course, the Stevenson "swingers" made points with George Kelly, Jeff Hildebrand, Steve Barlow and Fred Manning. Also on the trip were Jack Booth and Bill Hand. It was a good opening match for the season, and while Stanford won, it should be a different story today as Menlo Prep faces the locals on the Pebble Beach course.

ARTISTS: The photo club, with Grover Wickersham as president, will have a display and exhibit on Saturday at the carnival. A faculty panel will choose from selections submitted by John Urist, Howard Hickingbotham and Pierre LaLande, among others. Also, in the art field, Mark Hornberger took a fourth place in the "out-door" show sponsored by Holman's. Mark shows great promise as an artist according to Stevenson's artist-in-residence, Richard Pearsall.

QUICK NOTES: The Stevenson Chess Club lost its season opener to Seaside High this past weekend by a 34-24 score. Hosted by the RLS club, the match will be returned next week. The Stevenson team included Bill Kondrat, Pete Funston, Jim Merritt, Willis Cook, Mike Donahoe and Chris Wentworth, team captain.

MR. RICKLEFS ON THE MOVE: Representing the California Association of Independent Schools, of which he is president, Headmaster Ricklefs flew to New York this past week for an important meeting of the National Association of Independent Schools. The meeting, held at the Statler Hilton in New York City, was on the theme "Change and Stability in Education." This is one of many such trips that Mr. Ricklefs makes each year to further educational programs.

CHURCH IN THE ROUND

Church in the Round, Carmel's Unitarian Universalist Fellowship, will hold a rummage sale on Saturday, at Sunset Center in Room 7 at 10 a.m.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Annis Andersen. Donations of clothing, kitchen ware, books, art objects and household goods may be brought to Room 7 Friday afternoon. Proceeds from the sale will go to the Fellowship's building fund.

AFS BENEFIT DOOR PRIZE

Door prize to be given away on March 22 at the premiere showing of the film "Dr. Zhivago" is the painting, above, "Mardi Gras," by John Boit Morse which he has donated to the American Field Service for this event. Admiring it, at left, are Tais dos Santos from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, AFS student at Carmel High School, and Gordon Clemens, president of the Carmel High School chapter of American Field Service, at right is Martin Forster, chairman of the benefit performance at Carmel's Village Theatre.

Tickets for this benefit are tax deductible and available at Carmel Box Office or from Mrs. Richard Sippel (624-1788).

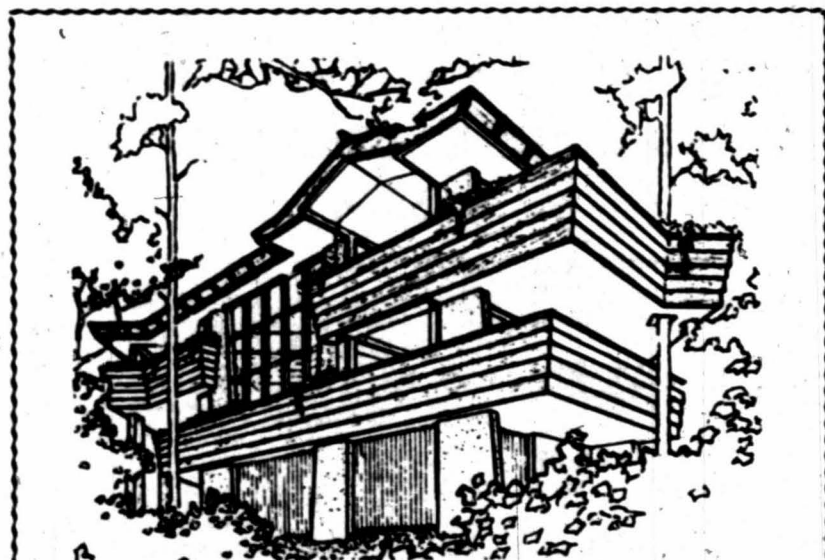

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Forster are chairmen for the gala which will include champagne punch at intermission. In addition to the John Boit Morse painting, Tais dos Santos will present a bracelet which she has designed and created. She is a senior at Carmel High and is living with the Edwin B. Miller family while she spends this year in our community.

Patrons for the AFS benefit are

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sippel, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Durein, Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Forster, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Sassoon, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Buzaid, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Craig, Dr. and Mrs. Harris Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. John Boit Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Chappellet, Mrs. Dorothy Carmalt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dahl, Mr. and Mrs. Grover M. Hermann, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Raggett and Mrs. Charles Kasch.

AGAIN HEADS PLANNERS Mrs. Dorothy von Meier was reelected chairman of the Carmel Planning Commission for the fourth time during the commission's annual organization meeting on February 23. Glenn Leldig continues as vice chairman.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. Mary Burgers of Carmel has announced the engagement of her daughter, Lynn, above, to Donel Geisen who is the son of Mrs.

Jean Geisen of San Francisco and John Geisen of Carmel. Lynn's father is John Burgers of Saratoga.

A graduate of Los Gatos High School, Lynn attended San Jose State College and the summer session of the Pasadena Playhouse. She is currently employed at the Crocker-Citizens Bank in Carmel.

Donel is a graduate of Carmel High School and attended Monterey Peninsula College. He is now with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company in Salinas.

A June wedding is planned by the young couple but as yet no date has been set.

JILL VINEY ENGAGED

Mrs. Martina Tait of Carmel has announced the engagement of her granddaughter, Jill Viney, to Lewis W. Barnard. The young couple plans to be married in Europe where Jill's mother is living, sometime in June.

Jill, who spent several weeks with her grandmother here last summer, is a 1966 graduate of Sarah Lawrence College and is a M.F.A. candidate in the department of painting at Columbia University. Jill's parents are Mrs. Charles A. Whitcomb of Orleans, France, and William E. Viney of West Covina.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Bernard of New York City. He is a graduate of Princeton University, attended the London School of Economics, and now is with Morgan Stanley Co., investment bankers.

Joins Sorority

Nancy Upjohn, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Upjohn of Carmel, was initiated into the Alpha Psi chapter of Kappa Delta sorority on February 24.

Nancy is a freshman at Drury College in Springfield, Missouri, where she is majoring in piano.

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT MORRIS LISTON

Phyllis Clayton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clayton of Carmel, was married on February 25 to Albert Morris Liston of Davis in All Saints' Episcopal Church. The 3 p.m. afternoon service was read by the Reverend David Hill.

Phyllis wore a gown of imported linen with an Empire bodice and a bateau neckline. The floor length dress had an A-line skirt with a pleat in front with venise lace encircling the waist and the short Kabuki sleeves. The detachable train fell from the bodice and was also edged with heavy venise lace. Her finger tip length veil of illusion was held by rose petals that were edged in pearls. Phyllis carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Julie Eghoian of Davis was the maid of honor and Miss Linda Koehler of San Francisco and Mrs. Doyle Clayton, the former Sue Segali of Monterey and sister-in-law of the bride, were the bridal attendants. They wore dresses of pomegranate red in an empire floor length style with A-line skirts and short sleeves. Double cuff bodices with self bows and pink tulle head-dresses with small bows holding them completed the outfits. They carried nosegays of pink carnations and roses with pink ribbon streamers.

Douglas Shearer of Davis was the best man and the ushers were John Whitcomb of Davis and Doyle Jack Clayton of Palo Alto, brother of the bride.

Phyllis was given in marriage by her father Jack Clayton and the church was decorated with arrangements of lemon roses and greenery with Robert Forbes as the organist.

After the service the reception was held in the Highlands Inn. Phyllis and Albert plan to tour and ski in Europe until this summer and then Albert will enter graduate school this fall.

Both Phyllis and Albert attended the University of California at Davis and he graduated in 1963 while she got her A.B. degree in 1964. Albert, who is the son of Mrs. Hazel Porter of Youngtown, Arizona, was in the Navy for the past two years.

To use the utmost your present opportunity is the only sure stepping stone to something better.

It's time to get out the Easter baskets, buy new bonnets and plan your Easter family dinner and children's gathering. We'll tell you about the youngsters' traditional egg hunt party first for that's where the Easter Bunny Cake stars. You may probably have to order the special mold for the cake (pictured on this page) which is why we're giving enough advance notice.

This pretty and novel cake can be kept as a surprise and served as a gay centerpiece for a small luncheon or a larger punch, ice cream and cake afternoon party.

For luncheon, al fresco in the patio with paper cloth, plates, cups and napkins, here is a nice and easy little menu especially for the very young.

RABBIT SALADS

One pkg. orange flavored gelatin; 1 cup hot water; 1 cup pineapple juice; 1 tsp. grated orange rind; 1 1/4 cups drained canned crushed pineapple; 1 cup raw grated carrots; lettuce; marshmallows; mayonnaise.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add juice and orange rind. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in pineapple and carrots. Pour into 6 individual round molds or custard cups. Chill until firm; unmold on crisp lettuce. Add carrot strips to form ears, a large marshmallow for the head and half a marshmallow for the tail. Serve with a spoonful of mayonnaise.

Speedy Sandwiches and Biscuits

Spread crunchy peanut butter thickly on open-face bread; trim off crusts; do the same with softened cream cheese and jelly on raisin bread. Each slice is cut into three slices which is more fun to eat. The biscuits are made from packaged dough, baked according to directions, split and filled with canned deviled ham spread, then cut in halves. These all go fast.

Crunchy Nibblers

The children will eat these with relish if the assortment is called "rabbit food!" Strips of crisp carrots, celery, green peppers, zucchini and cauliflower buds with tiny sweet pickles are favorites, passed around casually in a basket.

Easter Bunny Cake

Two cups sifted flour; 2 1/4 tsp. baking powder; 1/2 tsp. salt; 1/2 cup butter or margarine; 1 cup sugar; 1 tsp. vanilla; 2 eggs; 3/4 cup milk; 1 recipe 7-Minute Frosting; flaked coconut.

Grease and flour 1 standard bunny mold. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together; set aside. Blend butter or margarine with sugar and vanilla. Blend in eggs, one at a time. Mix in sifted dry ingredients, in three additions, alternately with milk. Pour into bottom half of bunny mold. Cover with top half. Place on baking sheet. Bake in 375 F. (moderate) oven until cake tester inserted in small hole in top of mold comes out clean, 40 to 45 minutes. Let cool for 10 minutes. Loosen edges of cake and remove from mold. Cool completely; spread with the following 7-Minute Frosting, then lightly press coconut into frosting. Give the bunny a pink jelly bean eye and decorate the platter with a softened American cheese and parsley stem "carrot," candy Easter eggs and bunnies.

Seven-Minute Frosting

Two egg whites; 1/2 cup light corn syrup; 1/2 cup sugar; 1/8 tsp. salt; 1 tsp. vanilla.

Combine egg whites, corn syrup, sugar and salt in double-boiler top. Beat slightly with rotary beater. Place over boiling water and beat constantly until frosting stands in peaks, 3 to 4 minutes. Remove from boiling water. Continue beating 1 minute. Add vanilla; beat un-

To order the Bunny Cake Mold, immediately send airmail letter with a check for $5.58 (Post Paid) to Maid of Scandinavia Co., 3245 Raleigh Avenue, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55416 and ask them to expedite the heavy aluminum Bunny Cake Mold.

New Organization To Benefit Children

A meeting was held at the Casa Estrada Adobe on February 24 to discuss the possibility of forming a Parents Without Partners (PWP) chapter on the Monterey Peninsula. Those attending the meeting were Richard Bennett, Glen Salyers, Mrs. Barbara Litts, Mrs. Joyce Mairkoff, Mrs. Marcenia Frederick, Mrs. Janice Niel, Mrs. Edith Ursino and Mrs. Phyllis Garrison. Bennett assumed chairmanship of the organizing unit.

Parents Without Partners is a national organization, with chapters in many cities and towns throughout the United States, whose purpose it is to aid in bringing the children of single-parent homes to "healthy maturity, with the full sense of being loved and accepted as persons, and with the same prospects for normal adulthood as children who mature with their two parents together."

Any parent who is, single by reason of being divorced, separated, widowed, or unmarried, and who is interested in establishing a Parents Without Partners chapter, may attend a general meeting to be held at 8:00 p.m. on March 30 in the Community Room of the Monterey Public Library. Guest speaker for the evening will be Sally Spray, who was instrumental in the formation of a similar organization in Palo Alto.

Administration On Aging Rotary Talk

"Are You Living The Rest of Your Life?" was the subject on which Charles P. Weikel spoke at Carmel Rotary Club last week. Weikel is the regional representative for the Administration on Aging.

This is a relatively new federal agency, having been established in 1965 but, as Mr. Weikel pointed out, the past has indicated more importance must be given this subject. For example, he said that at the beginning of the Christian era a man's life expectancy was in the twenties; by 1900 it was about forty-seven years; and a person born in 1967 can expect to live into his seventies. In fact, he said that by the year 2,000 it may be necessary to request permission to die.

Weikel's agency is researching the past and present to determine how it can advise and be of assistance in directing senior citizens towards fruitful, healthy activities. It is in a position of being able to give organizational ideas and, in some instances, grants to centers for recreation, workshops, concerts, etc.

The Administration on Aging is located at 50 Fulton Street, Room 406, San Francisco, California 94102.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel 624-3881.

Art News . . .

The Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association is planning a bus tour on March 17 to the San Francisco Museum of Art to view paintings, drawings, prints, and collages by Robert Motherwell. After luncheon, the tour will continue to Berkeley to see the Joseph H. Hazen Collection at the University Art Museum. This collection is like a Who's Who in Art. It includes Picasso, Braque, De Kooning, Bonnard, Dufy, Kandinsky and many others.

The price of the tour will be $7.50 for museum members and $8.50 for non-members. Because space is limited, reservations should be made early by telephoning 624-2918.

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

Mrs. Eisenhower and I are most appreciative of your kindness in sending to us one of your paintings. It is a lovely piece of work and we shall soon find a place where it will fit into our home.

I was deeply interested in the story of your life which I found in a brochure that accompanied the picture. It is always good to learn of anyone who has overcome difficulties of his early career and developed into a worthwhile citizen, capable of doing the kind of work illustrated in the same brochure and in the landscape you have sent to us.

Again with my thanks and with very best wishes for continued success and happiness to you and Mrs. Hamilton,

Sincerely,

Dwight D. Eisenhower

Above is a copy of the letter received by Richard Hamilton, a former local artist now painting in Palm Springs. As a juvenile delinquent, Hamilton came under the jurisdiction of the California Youth Authority. He escaped from the CYA camp near Stockton and became a fugitive until he joined the Army and served in Japan, still rebellious against authority. After Army service, he was a drifter, and drank heavily. Through the Alcoholics Anonymous organization, Hamilton was rehabilitated and encouraged to develop his long dormant art ability. One of his paintings is in the permanent collection of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. Another was purchased from a local exhibition of his work by Mrs. Bob Hope. Hamilton says "Sunset at Carmel," a seascape he has done, will be featured in full color in a Walter Foster art book, also that he is preparing a one-man show on the Peninsula this summer.

On February 21 new officers were chosen for the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association. Robert Stanton continues as president. Steve Crouch is first vice president; Barbara Burdick, second vice president; Mausita Jennings recording secretary; and Marian Messier, corresponding secretary.

For the artist interested in painting the human figure, the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association will sponsor a four-day workshop by Raymond Brose, associate professor of art at San Jose State College, March 20-23.

The workshop will emphasize various approaches and techniques in interpretation of the human figure as a painting subject. Certain aspects, such as mood, gesture, coloristic effects, abstract potential, composition and anatomical forces will be explored. Work will be from the model and may be executed with any painting media, although oil is preferable.

The workshop will be held in Sunset Center. Reservations must be made in advance at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art (624-2918).

MY MOST INTERESTING TRIP 'THE DARK CONTINENT'

by Mrs. Alvin J. Ferrera

It was a June morning when my daughter and I set out from Cairo on our carefully planned two-month tour of Africa. By plane, bus, automobile, and even—in Gabon—pirogue, we traveled completely around the "Dark Continent" from the east coast south to the Cape of Good Hope, thence up the west coast north to Casablanca where the tour ended. It would take many thousands of words to relate all of the remarkable events or describe the places in our experiences, but there were a few that are outstanding.

In Kenya a safari car and white hunter escorted us to the famous Treetops Hotel which is perched on stilts 40 feet above a waterhole. At four in the afternoon the baboons joined us for tea and crumpets on the observation deck. They snatched tidbits from our table, plates, or hands, but scampered off whenever they saw a servant coming their way. That night we dined while watching a magnificent parade of wild life passing below.

Our beds were arranged with pillows near the windows so that if we retired before dawn we could pop up and see elephants; or a rhino huffing its way down to the waterhole. The scene is always lighted by an artificial moon if a full moon is not available. We amusingly read a sign in the powder room which had no curtains in the windows: "Only the monkeys can see you!"

The native bazaars around Nairobi as well as the other countries on the eastern side of Africa fascinated us. They reek of wine, dung, rotting meat, and gooey sweets swarming with flies. The skin colors of the people range from shining plum-black of the Negroes to the lighter Swahilis from the coast; ivory-skinned Arabs; swarthy Greeks; sallow East Indians; fiercely bearded Sikhs in brilliant turbans; and the hawk-faced sun-blackened Somalis from the northern deserts. There were black policemen in neat, starched khaki and high black puttees; and hotel waiters and room boys in white night shirts called "kanzus," padding silently barefooted across the tiles.

And there were Masai, wearing nothing but goatskin cloaks, carrying spears, wire ornaments in their ears, and red ochre "make-up" on their faces. They count their wealth in cattle, but never kill them for food, using only the milk and blood for nourishment. The women are clad in one-piece "shukus" and have the inevitable baby slung on their backs, a tiny, woolly head peeping from under the armpit.

Up along the west coast we came to Lagos, Nigeria, a fascinating city. Here once more we felt far from civilization and in the true Africa. The Idumagbo market was most colorful, especially the "ju-ju" stall with strange objects of importance to the witch doctors: monkey skulls, carcasses of small golden birds, dried mice and rats on sticks, parrot beaks, gizzards delicately blown up into small balloons, a bouquet of sheep's intestines, snake fangs, "luck powder" made of herbs and heaven alone knows what else, snake heads in various stages of decomposition folded inside a sheaf of cornhusk, a fine dead parakeet. Incredibly, even human flesh: hands, feet, and other anatomical oddments, were obtainable here if at least six months old.

A short hop from Libreville to Lambarene and across the Ogooue River in pirogues paddled by lepers brought us to Dr. Schweitzer's famous hospital. Where once there was an uninterrupted expanse of virgin jungle stands his "city of health" where for decades he devotedly served the inhabitants. Now he lies buried outside his office next to the grave of his wife, but for three days we were fortunate enough to see and talk with him and to observe the workings of his fantastic projects. His staff are all dedicated people, doctors and nurses who compassionately give of their time and talents in the hospital and leper colony nearby, with little material reward.

Hygienically speaking, the hospital is appalling for sepsis is a matter of no consequence. The doctors and nurses "wash up" at a ten-gallon tin suspended from the ceiling. As we watched an appendicitis operation, a mother goat wandered in and nudged the surgeon's pocket. The doctor produced a piece of candy, and she went out chewing happily. A fat duck waddled in and went to sleep under

'OLD CABIN ON OWENS RIVER'

Nancy Johnson has always had a consuming interest in the natural world around her. From girlhood, her watercolors and drawings have caught the mood and color of a constantly changing landscape. Windswept trees, weathered barns and adobes—these are her favorite subjects. However, the grandeur of the high Sierra and the dramatic landscapes of the southwest have also been captured by the artist's brush.

A native of Minneapolis, Nancy Johnson has made Carmel her home since 1939. She continued her art training on the Peninsula with Armin Hansen, Patricia and John Cunningham and Leon Amyx. In addition, she studied with nationally known watercolorists George Post, Rex Brandt, Edgar Whitney and Richard Yip. Now, a table. The operation continued; and despite such a casual atmosphere we found the rate of recovery was high: half a million in the 52 years of hospital care.

Miss Johnson is teaching. An accredited teacher, her Carmel art classes draw together scores of students studying sketching, composition and, of course, watercolor.

Nancy Johnson is a member of the Carmel Art Association and the Society of Western Artists. She has exhibited and received numerous awards at juried shows throughout California. Her work can be seen locally at the Carmel Art Association Gallery and the Carmel Valley Art Gallery.

Another strange custom we observed was the manner of burial of the dead. The night before our visit a woman had died at the age of 59, well past the normal life span for this country. She was wrapped in a clean sheet and laid upon two large palm branches. Two more branches were placed on top, and the whole braided tightly to the body, after which several mourners carried it to an open place called "Cathedral of the Palms" and lowered it into a deep hole where a few shovelfuls of the red earth of Africa were scattered loosely over it. Then the mourners left and we watched with one of the nurses while a miracle took place. Within ten minutes we saw a horde of tiny ants advancing at great speed in columns an inch or more wide, to disappear into the grave, where, so the nurse explained, the remains would be devoured cleanly in forty-eight to sixty-two hours. No embalming is ever needed in this country.

Returning again to Lambarene on the third day we resumed our journey west and north along the coasts of Camaroon, Dahomey, the Ivory Coast, Guinea, Dakar, Las Palmas in the Canary Isles and so to the end of our long circumnavigation of Africa. Each of these places has a story of adventure and color, and in each we received

Music Festival Here For 1,000 Youngsters

On Saturday, a festival of junior high bands and orchestras will be held at Carmel Middle School. Sponsored by the central coast section of California Music Educators, this festival involves young people from Scotts Valley to Gonzales, Hollister to Big Sur.

Nearly 1,000 youngsters and their directors will take turns playing for each other in the gym of the school, with sessions running from 8:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. The purpose of this festival is to allow students to see and hear what other young people of their ages are doing in instrumental music in their own schools.

The festival will be under the general chairmanship of J. W. Larson of the Carmel school system. Adjudicators who will offer suggestions for improvement to the various groups are John Gosling, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony, and Dr. Vernon B. Read of the San Jose State College Music Department.

SEALS VISIT CALIFORNIA

During 1965, some 22,000 sea lions, 1,000 harbor seals and 3,500 northern elephant seals inhabited the coast and offshore islands of California. Once nearly extinct, about 600 sea otters also live in the ocean off the California coast.

something for which there is no room to tell here. Because of the careful advance planning of our travel agent, we have only happy memories of this tour.

LENA BROWN

Mrs. Lena Estelle Brown, a resident of Carmel Valley for the past year and a half, died on Friday in her home at 37 Lilac Lane. She was born in Santa Saba, Texas, on July 6, 1898.

Mrs. Brown was a member of the Star Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, Texas, and was a member of the Baptist Church in the same city.

She is survived by her daughter, Margaret B. Meyers of Carmel Valley; five sons, James O. Brown, Brownsville, Texas; Charles O. Brown and Jack D. Brown, both of Houston, Texas; William C. Brown of Beeville, Texas, and Joe B. Brown, Naval Air Station at Lemoore, California; and two sisters, a brother and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services were scheduled in Goldwaite, Texas. The Mission Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.

Completes Course

Second Lieutenant John R. Hackbarth, who is the son of Mayor and Mrs. Stephen Grant of Carmel, has just completed an ordnance officers course at the Army Ordnance School in Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland.

John, who graduated from Oregon State University last June as a forestry engineer, was in the ROTC at school. He has been on active duty since November and, as plans stand now, will be sent to Germany sometime in May.

New Resident Heads Consulting Company

Thomas S. Morgan, his wife Janet and their 18-month-old daughter, Lucy, recently moved from San Francisco to this area. They are living on Atherton Drive at Trevis Way in Hatton Fields. Bill Pentony of Carmel Realty Company arranged for them to lease their house from Philip Davis.

In San Francisco, Morgan was a commissionaire representing the insurance industry on the City and County Retirement Board which administered a fund of over $350,000,000. He is now a director of the Economic Consulting Company of Carmel which performs an estate planning service. He is a graduate of the Choate School in Wallingford, Connecticut, and also attended the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania. He was a personal affairs officer with the U.S. Air Force during the Korean conflict.

Mrs. Morgan has been very interested in endocrinology. She did graduate work at Cornell University and has been associated with the Stanford and University of California medical schools.

GALLON BLOOD DONOR

Mrs. W. M. (Lynn) Lewis (right), a first time blood donor, presents the coveted gallon donor card to Mrs. Betty Fowlston who is giving her eighth pint. Lynn, a Red Cross volunteer worker, has a special incentive to give blood since her son is in the Air Force. Betty, well known to Peninsula theater goers, will be co-starred in the Studio Theater's forthcoming production of "Arsenic and Old Lace."

The Bloodmobile, supported by the American Red Cross, will visit Carmel tomorrow.

First Child

Mr. and Mrs. James Gould of Carmel Valley welcomed a new member to their family last month. Her name is Cheryl Elizabeth and she weighed seven pounds when she was born at the Community Hospital on February 16.

As Cheryl is the first child, everyone in the family is interested in who she looks like but, as her mother says, "She is a complete individual as far as that kind of thing goes."

Happy grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould of Fremont, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy James of Hingham, Massachusetts.

Soroptimist Club Gala Benefit For Nurses' Scholarships

Every year the Soroptimist Club of the Monterey Peninsula earns $1,000 for its primary project — nurses' scholarships. Three nurses are kept in school each year until they graduate.

This year the club is sponsoring "The World of Wines and Fashions"—all donations going toward this worthwhile cause. The event will be held on March 16 at 8 p.m. at the Mark Thomas Inn.

The first hour will be devoted to tasting wines, from the Almaden Wineries of Los Gatos, and imported cheeses and breads. This hour is being set up by Nielsen Bros. of Carmel. The second hour will be a most glamorous fashion show coordinated by Dorothy Dean Stevens of Carmel Valley. Fifty door prizes will be given away in a drawing at this time. The prizes have been donated by Carmel, Monterey and Seaside merchants. Men, as well as women are urged to attend. There's something for everyone. Organ music is being furnished for the entire evening by the Harnish Music Co. of Carmel.

Mrs. Harold Nielsen is chairman of the event. Other members of the committee are Sallie Conn, Marjorie Shook, Birgit Carlson, Celia Busby. Door prize chairman is Elizabeth Banherman; ticket chairman, Dorothy Wright.

Seniors Selected For Bank Awards

Three seniors at Carmel High School have been selected to represent their school in the 1967 Bank of America Achievement Awards program. Principal Warren Edwards has announced.

Selected by faculty members, the top winners will receive trophies and have the opportunity to compete for cash awards ranging up to $1,000.

The trophy winners and the study fields in which they were chosen are Barbara Coss, science and mathematics; Kay McCombs, fine arts; Scott Sinclair, liberal arts.

Nine other students were cited for their superior performance in specific fields of study and will receive certificates of merit. They are: Stephen Burnett (mathematics), Josephine Bow (laboratory

'MESSIAH' SOLOIST

Soprano soloist for the production of Handel's "Messiah" to be held in King Hall at the Naval Postgraduate School on March 19 is Marie Gibson, above.

Miss Gibson is well known to Carmel audiences as a Bach Festival artist. Her operatic performances include appearances with the San Francisco Opera, the Los Angeles Opera, and the Guild Opera of Los Angeles.

Recently she sang the role of Musetta in "La Boheme," which opened the opera season of the Honolulu Symphony Society. Future engagements include "Jephtha," with Dr. Richard Lert and the Pasadena Symphony, and "Te Deum" with the San Bernardino

Symphony Orchestra.

Other soloists for the performance include Sister Theresa Di Rocco and Edward Jameson. They will be supported by the Monterey County Symphony Chamber Orchestra and the Monterey Choral Society.

Tickets for the 3 p.m. performance are $1.50 and are available at the office of Chaplain S. D. Chambers at the Naval Postgraduate School, or by telephoning 373-4491. All seats are reserved.

science), Gregory Sprung (music), Harry Townsend (art), Conrad Selvig (drama), Adriann Ricupero (English), Carole Kiler (social science), Mary Faulkner (foreign language), William Edwards (trades and industrial arts).

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The imperishability of spiritual things will be a theme of this week's Lesson-Sermon titled "Substance" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday.

Bible references will include a verse from Psalm 125: "They that trust in the Lord shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever."

CARMEL FOUNDATION TOWN HOUSE

The Carmel Foundation will hold its annual meeting on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at All Saints' Episcopal Church Parish House. At the meeting, members will elect seven directors for three-year terms.

The nominating committee will submit the names of the following persons for election as directors: Capt. Archer M. R. Allen, DeLano Brown, George O. Carlson, Mrs. R. W. Hayler, General Robert B. McClure, Mrs. Robert M. Perkins, and Mrs. Ruth Thornburg. Others may be nominated from the floor. Immediately following the meeting, tea will be served at Town House to members and friends of the foundation.

HACIENDA CARMEL

A one-man show of oils and water colors by Gilbert Boyd of Hacienda Carmel was hung recently in Casa Fleeta. It will be on exhibition for a month. In this show, Mr. Boyd combines an unusual range of landscapes, still life and abstracts. He works in what might possibly be called the world's smallest studio—a cubicle enclosed on his patio facing the Santa Lucia Mountains.

Fifty members of Casa Lobos Club traveled by chartered buses to go to Palo Alto on February 16 for a visit to an outstanding scientific facility, the Stanford Linear Acceleration Center. Smashing the atom and examination of its components are expeditions into pure science far beyond the understanding of laymen. However, the hosts at SLAC explained the purposes and procedures in language that Casa Lobos members could absorb. All remember the two-mile long building, described as "the longest building in the world," that stands astride the "accelerator" in its reinforced concrete berth 25 feet below the surface.

Hal Wright, publicity chairman for the activities committee, reported the story of the trip to Stanford Linear Accelerator Center.

A book review and tea honoring the four new residents of Forest Hill Manor was held on March 1 in the Lounge. They are Miss Agnes Ferguson, a former teacher of blind children who came from Los Angeles; Mrs. Olive Mudge, who served as a deaconess in Ashbury Hospital, in Illinois, but for the past few years was a resident of Carmel; William Thomas Moore, a resident of Pacific Grove for the past 60 years. He has served as a trustee and clerk of the Pacific Grove school board and gave much of his time to the school building program.

Norma Andruss Houston, a former East Bay teacher, chose Forest Hill Manor, "because of the warmth of cordial friendliness expressed by the members."

A book review on "Hurry Sundown" by Burt and Katya Gilden, was given by Mrs. Sarah Nelson. Later tea, served in the front lounge amid Spring flowers, made a most appropriate ending for a pleasant afternoon and reception of new members.

CANTERBURY WOODS

On Monday, between 5:30 and 7:30 p.m., dinner at Canterbury Woods will be an authentic Hawaiian Luau. Entertainment and Hawaiian dances will make this a real gala occasion. Flowers brought in from the Islands will decorate the dining tables. This promises to be an evening to remember.

The Writers Group, under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Grace Paca, have started the second volume of Canterbury Woods' "Chapbook." All poems and stories are original and must be written by residents of Canterbury Woods in order to qualify.

CARMEL VALLEY MANOR

On March 30, the Alma Trio with Adolph Baller, pianist; Andor Toth, violinist; Gabor Rejto, cellist; will give a concert in the Meeting House at 7:45 p.m.

PINPOINT PROFILE

Mrs. Greta Rockey

Crewel embroidery is the name given to stitchery being taught by Mrs. Greta Rockey at Hacienda Carmel. Her classes meet in Casa Fleeta every Monday afternoon and bright colored wool is made to do fantastic tricks. She calls it painting with yarn!

Mrs. Rockey also instructs another class of senior citizens in Pacific Grove, where she has been teaching since she first came to Carmel in 1957. Before that, however, there were many others she taught in her home city of Portland, Oregon. These included groups in the home economics department of several schools, the Y.W.C.A., the Red Cross and the Girl Scouts.

She is a lover of good music and always attends the symphony and concerts at Monterey Peninsula College; but her most recent interest is painting as various water colors she has done, decorating the walls of her apartment, attest. When traveling in foreign countries her attention was turned towards needlework specialties on display everywhere. She came home inspired with new "fields to conquer," in other words, she incorporated all her new ideas in teaching her students novel methods and patterns.

Mrs. Rockey was born in Portland, Oregon, and lived there most of her life. After her husband, Dr. Paul Rockey, died, she chose Hacienda Carmel as her permanent home. Now her life is made complete teaching and enjoying the comforts of her home.

Thirteen-year-old Christopher, a lovable small black cairn, watches everything from his vantage point near her patio door. A gentle little bark told his mistress that someone had just passed outside their gate. With that chore finished he settled down, in his own "doggy" fashion, for a well earned nap.

STRING QUARTET CONCERT TOMORROW AT MPC

The Stockholm Kyndel String Quartet, a noted chamber music group on its third cross-country tour of the United States and Canada, and Konrad Ragossnig, Austria's greatest classical guitarist, will appear in concert at Monterey Peninsula College tomorrow.

Beginning at 8:30 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall, the quartet, with Ragossnig, will play two examples of the scarce literature for strings and guitar: three quintets by Luigi Boccherini and a quintet by Mario Castelnuovo-Tedesco. They will also play—without guitar—Beethoven's Quintet, Opus 95, and five movements for string quartet by Anton Webern.

The public is invited to attend without charge. No tickets will be required for admission.

AAUW Operation Update Series Of Lectures Scheduled In April

"Way Out in Our Own Backyard" will be the theme of the 1967 Operation Update series of lectures, sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula branch American Association of University Women, on the four Thursdays of April.

Open to all women of the community, free of charge, the lecture series this year will be given at the Monterey Youth Center, next to Dennis the Menace Park.

The procedure will be similar to that followed in past years: An hour's lecture, a coffee break and a question and answer period. There is plenty of free parking at the youth center and nursery facilities as well as use of Dennis the Menace park will be available.

Operation Update was begun six years ago by AAUW as a "capsule college refresher" course for women who have been out of school for several years, especially the mothers of young children. The Monterey branch of AAUW has received several state awards as well as national recognition for this project.

This year's theme is aimed at acquainting Monterey area women with the work of local persons in areas that may rightly be deemed "way out."

The first lecture, on April 6, "Anthropology '60's," will be given by Gilbert Boyer, Carmel concert pianist, and his artist wife, Louise. They will describe their experiences in the "Each One Teach One" literacy program and their anthropological discoveries in Mexico and South America.

"Space Age Spin Off," or our everyday benefits from scientific research on space, will be discussed by Dr. Charles Mulkey of MPC at the second lecture on April 13.

"A Matter of Spirit," a discussion of psychic phenomena by Beulah Karney Powers, Carmel Valley author, has been planned for April 20.

"The Art Spirit" will be the subject of a talk by Nancy Johnson, Carmel artist and teacher, on April 27.

Arrangements for this year's series are being made by Mrs. Charles Spangenberg, Mrs. Everett Bibb, Mrs. J. Breck Tostevin, Mrs. Wayne Downey and Mrs. Dale Ebberly.

CYPRESS NITE STAND MEETING MONDAY

The Cypress Nite Stand will hold its March meeting on Monday at 7 p.m. at the Surf Cafe, 111 Central Avenue, Pacific Grove. All interested persons are invited to attend. Plans for the annual Nite Cap picnic will be the topic for discussion, among other new and old business. For transportation or information, please telephone Leona Bennett (373-1403).

The Complete Gardener

PENSTEMON

Like any other business the nursery is pretty much obliged to handle the items which are most in demand. If something new is put in stock, as an experiment, there is a possibility that it might be unnoticed . . . and unsold. And so it is with bedding plants.

Actually there are many interesting annuals which do nicely in this area, but are never seen because they are unknown to the public. Like the Penstemon, sometimes known as Beard-tongue. This is native to the Sierra and the Rockies. It's a perennial which can be used to fine advantage in borders or rock gardens. Some varieties grow as tall as six feet. It must have a well-drained soil in full sun. The flowers are trumpet-type and borne on clustered spikes. Sometimes they take on the appearance of foxgloves or Canterbury bells. The colors are numerous. Certain varieties make good cut flowers. The foliage is glossy, bright green and attractive by any standards. Penstemon will bloom its heaviest during June and July, and if you remove the old bloom stalks and give the plants another feeding, you will be rewarded with another crop of flowers. Oddly enough, sometimes this bonus crop surprises you early the next spring.

ORIENTAL POPPY

Another good old-fashioned favorite for those who like something gay and giddy is the Oriental Poppy. Blazing scarlet . . . or sometimes orange, or apricot, or even mahogany blooms with six black spokes on the inside. Here is thin tissue that catches every breeze. All poppies insist upon perfect drainage, otherwise the roots will rot—and plenty of sun. Although each bloom lasts but a few days, one healthy plant will put forth a considerable number of flowers. These blooms will stand as tall as three feet. If you already have Oriental poppies established in your garden don't disturb them. In many cases an old Oriental poppy will populate a whole neighborhood once its roots have been cut. There's something about disturbing

. . . a regular diet of information having to do with plants

WHAT LIKES LIME?

Generally speaking, sandy soils are acid and clay soils are alkaline, but there are exceptions. If you know which way your soil is inclined you can either plant things to suit the soil or alter the soil to suit the plants. Bedding plants which prefer alkaline (limy) conditions are petunias, calendulas, geraniums, cinerarias, sweet williams, sweet peas, heliotrope, gerbera, iris, nasturtiums forget-me-not and morning glory. Lilacs and clematis also need a "sweet" situation. If you have an acid soil it would be well to use bone meal mixed into the soil for these plants. Being alkaline, the use of bone meal is quite restricted in this area.

Next week we'll tackle your lawn renovation.

High Twelve Speaker Discusses Korean Aid

In a luncheon program for the High Twelve Club of Carmel, Joseph Boyd spoke on "A Korean Self Help Foreign Aid Program." Boyd, who is a member of the group, lived in Korea for four and a half years under the U.S. State Department of Foreign Aid and is at present affiliated with American Korean Foundation. This organization sponsors self-help projects in public health, agriculture, business and other phases of social life.

The speaker used his lifetime career in agriculture to extend a program of 4-H projects for Korean youth groups. After showing some of his unusual colored slides depicting general features of Korea as a background, Boyd directed his attention to specific farm projects.

Among the most successful projects, Boyd said, was a pig raising program. By using a pig exchange procedure and expanding operations, Korea is now a pork exporting nation. Through projects like this the country has changed over from a one crop (rice) country to that of a diversified agricultural nation.

Realtors, meeting to discuss a California Real Estate Association educational and sales conference to be held in Monterey on April 17, display a giant blow-up of an education certificate realtors can earn by attending this and others education courses. The conference will be co-sponsored by the Carmel Board of Realtors. Pictured left to right, are Reed Robbins of Stockton, CREA President; Charles W. McEwen, Carmel Board of Realtors vice president; Jack Martin, Carmel Board of Realtors president; and E. A. Winn of Santa Cruz, CREA regional vice president, District 10.

ASTRONOMY CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

The Monterey Astronomy Club will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight in Room C-4 of Walter Colton Junior High School, Monterey, at 8 p.m. All members are urged to come and to bring guests. The general public is invited to attend.

The speaker of the evening will be R. Rolleston West of Carmel, who will discuss "The Gravitron Theory." West, who received the degree B.A. from Cambridge, wears the D.S.O. He is registered in the State of California as both a civil engineer and a mechanical engineer. At one time he was chief of research for the De Havilland Aircraft Company and for many years lectured on thermodynamics at the University of British Columbia.

arts of San Francisco State College. There will be four performances on March 10, 11, 17 and 18.

Tracy Carr of Galveston, Texas, but more recently a trainee with the Carmel Valley White Oaks Theatre, and Vincent Russo of Monterey, will sing the parts of Dorabelle and Guglielmo respectively. Both, former students in the Opera Workshop directed by Nancy Ness Bowman of Carmel, are now enrolled at SFSC and working on operatic careers. Following their stay at SFSC both gifted young singers plan on further study in Europe.

Persons interested in attending the performances at the college may contact the School of Creative Arts, San Francisco State College, 1600 Holloway St., San Francisco, California 94132.

COL. DONALD B. MONROE

Col. Donald B. Monroe (USA ret.), a resident of Carmel for the past 19 years, died Tuesday in a local nursing home after a period of failing health.

He was born on July 19, 1894 in Omaha, Nebraska. A veteran of World War II, he was an accountant by profession and was employed in this capacity by the Army before retirement.

With his wife, Nell Green Monroe, he made his home at Dolores Street and Thirteenth Avenue. In addition to his wife, he leaves a sister Mrs. Helen McNiece of Laguna Hills; and two nephews, Parker Monroe Jr. and Richard Dean Monroe, both of New York City.

Private services were held on Friday at 11 a.m. in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea with the Reverend John Thornton of Christ Church Episcopal in Sausalito officiating. Burial will take place in El Carmelo Cemetery in Pacific Grove.

Friends wishing to make contributions in the memory of Col. Monroe may do so to the American Cancer Research Society, P.O. Box 1028, Monterey. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of the arrangements.

FRANK MOORE

Frank Montague Moore, widely known artist and an active member of the Carmel Art Association for the past 26 years, died on Sunday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Moore was born on November 24, 1887, in Taunton, Somersetshire, England, and studied at the Liverpool School of Art under John Finnie, R.A. before coming to the United States in 1905 and studying under H. W. Rager, N.A.

Mr. Moore went to Honolulu, Hawaii, with an exhibition of New England scenes he had painted and stayed as director of the Honolulu Academy of Art. While there, he established a library of paintings in the Queen's Hospital and painted several murals for public buildings in Honolulu.

After coming to California he was commissioned to paint 41 California scenes on the "Picture Bridge" at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena, unveiled in March, 1933. He exhibited for five years at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco and in 1944 won the Logan Medal, first prize for paintings in that year's exhibition.

In 1943, Mr. Moore was commissioned to paint a series of historical panels for the Pacific headquarters of Major General John Marston (USMC), depicting the part the U.S. Marine Corps played in the conquest of California.

Mr. Moore and his wife, Ella Jensen Moore, his only survivor, made their home at Carmelo street and Thirteenth avenue. He was a member of the Salmagundi Club of New York, the California Watercolor Society and the American Federation of Arts.

Memorial services were held on Tuesday at St. John's Chapel with Reverend John T. Ledger officiating. Inurnment took place in Cemetery El Encinal. The Mission Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make contributions in memory of Mr. Moore may do so to the charities of their choice.

H. MELVILLE NEWTON

H. Melville Newton, father of Robert E. Newton of Carmel and a frequent visitor here, died Saturday in a St. Louis, Missouri, hospital. He was born in Landskrona, Sweden, in 1882; and came to New Haven, Connecticut with his parents when he was three years old.

A resident of St. Louis for the past 50 years, he retired 10 years ago as vice president of Jennison-Wright Corp.

In addition to his son, he leaves his wife, Lily C. Newton of 7026 Washington Street in St. Louis; a daughter, Mrs. B. Pollard Scholz of St. Louis; five grandchildren, including Peggy D. and Gary F. Newton of Carmel.

Approximately ¼-acre C-1 commercial property in Carmel Village, level and well located. For sale at less than $1.30 a square foot. This is MULTIPLE LISTING No. 2132. See us or any Carmel or Carmel Valley broker.

OCEAN VIEW LOT — $9,750

IN CARMEL HIGHLANDS, and a magnificent ocean view it is, too. At $9,750 and an ocean view, there has to be a catch, which is that while the price isn't steep (far from it!) the lot definitely is. If you're from Marin County, it may seem like a gentle slope; if you're from Arizona it will seem like a cliff. While it's a difficult site, it's far from an impossible one. Really, it's good value.

CARMEL — 2 BEDROOMS — PRIVATE — $28,500

A beautiful 2-car garage and a large paved patio go with this approximately 10-year-old 2-bedroom, 1-bath, beamed-ceiling living room home. A fine home at $28,500. Exclusive.

about a fine quality home in the Highlands with an unobstructable and panoramic view of ocean, hills and canyons. Nearly new, absolutely immaculate. Custom designed by leading Carmel architect, this residence features fascinating built-ins tastefully incorporated into the living areas with exquisite taste. Interesting stone fireplace, floor-to-ceiling sliding glass doors to large sunny decks projected to enjoy the sun and view and evade the wind.

HANK FLATLY STATES

that this 40-acre site is incomparable! The combination of a majestic mountain backdrop, outlook over the Pacific and its Sur Costline, along with access to delightful beaches, combine to make this land rare, wild and exciting. Reasonably accessible to the cultural, social and recreational facilities of the whole Monterey Peninsula, yet permanent seclusion is assured. Lilac-covered hillsides, open ridge top, and a redwood canyon for varied and interesting terrain. Priced at only $1,700 per acre as a single parcel, with about $20,000 cash down payment, balance at 6%.

FLORENCE ENTHUSIASTICALLY INSISTS

that HER pet is perfection! Expansive views of the mountains, beautifully landscaped property at the end of a cul-de-sac. Nothing to do but move right in! Perfect home for a retired couple. Den plus two spacious, sunny bedrooms and two beautiful baths. Large living room with impeccable carpeting, draperies. Minimum yard care for the attractive garden and a wonderful, protected deck. Price only $59,500.

GUY IS ABSOLUTELY SURE

that good things come in small packages: Witness, a home built by a fine local contractor for family living and priced at just $34,500. In a quiet, wooded area, easy walking distance to school and town. The house sits on the high side of the tree-lined street and has the appearance of being built to last. Provincial feeling in the living room with its mantled fireplace, separate dining room, modern built-in kitchen, 3 nice bedrooms and 2 tiled baths. Don't miss it, says he.

AND LOIS IS IN LOVE

with a setting in Carmel Valley and an adobe home so artfully planned for its setting you'd think it GREW there. And a swimming pool in exactly the right spot to compliment the setting, and a guest house with a view of Garzas Canyon unequalled in the Valley. It's all secluded at the end of a country lane on nearly 3 acres of the Valley's handsomest oaks with its privacy guaranteed forever. See it. But YOU be prepared to fall in love with it, too.

School Board Thanks Voters

The principal item of interest on the agenda of last night's meeting of the Carmel Unified School District board of education was the successful passage of the 37 cent override tax. Speaking on behalf of the board, President Dr. Robert E. Newton expressed his appreciation to "... the many people who put in long hours for the passage of the override and to the community for their support."

Dr. Harris A. Taylor expressed his gratitude as well by stating "The record turnout of 62.5% of the registered voters was a clear expression of interest on the part of the public, and a dramatic reversal of previous elections."

Among other information items discussed by the board was the 1967-68 school calendar. Don Blakeman, representing the Carmel teacher's association, spoke in favor of conforming the Carmel Unified School District calendar to that of the county, as did Dr. Taylor. The item was held over for consideration.

Speaking in favor of the revision of Division 7, State Education Code, John Farr, faculty member at the high school said, "This bill is called the 'Home Rule Bill,' as the State Legislature is giving up some of its power, a most unusual occurrence, and investing it in the local school boards." The bill itself would give more power to the local school systems as far as scheduling is concerned.

Dr. Taylor also commented on the bill, with respect to the physical education lobby in Sacramento, and suggested framing a letter of support to Senator Miller, the author of the bill. President Newton commended this action and moved that such a letter be drafted, subject to the approval of the board.

In other items approved by the board, Carl C. Schmuck was approved as a teacher replacement for the arts and crafts department at Carmel Middle School for the remainder of the 1966-67 school year.

Mrs. Thelma A. Stohr, librarian at Carmel Middle School, who had submitted her resignation and is retiring at the end of the present school year, was permitted to do so with many regrets by the board at her leaving the school system which she has served so well.

The Carmel School library was found to be acceptable by the board and administration was authorized to file notice of completion.

GIRL SCOUTS TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

On Sunday, Carmel Girl Scout troops will celebrate Girl Scout Birthday with a program in the Carmel High School gymnasium. From 2-4 p.m. that day, the gym will be the scene of exhibits and demonstrations, skits and songs presented by the Scouts to present a brief glimpse of their many activities and interests. Hostesses for the program will be the girls of Cadette Troop 2158.

Following the program refreshments will be served. The public is invited and urged to attend.

LUPE RAMOS

Miss Lupe Frances Ramos, a resident of Carmel for over 30 years, died on Tuesday morning in her home on Dolores street and Fifth Avenue after a period of failing health.

The Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department was called to her home at 10:48 a.m. but on arrival the aid crew learned her doctor had pronounced her dead.

Lupe Ramos was known to many Carmelites and cheerfully greeted them as she walked about town. She came here first as a companion to the late Mrs. Sarah Leidigh and lived with her for many years in a cottage at Dolores and Fifth which was demolished for construction of Del Dono Court.

Miss Ramos was a native of Gonzales and proud of her Spanish ancestry. She spent her childhood in the Gonzales area. After coming here, she was an active member of Carmel Mission Basilica and belonged to Carmel Mission Court 1496, Catholic Daughters of America, as well as the Altar Society.

She was a charter member of Young Ladies Institute 83 of Soledad.

She is survived by many nieces and nephews including Mrs. Lottie Whalen and Mrs. Annita McGinley of Gonzales.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today in the Muller Mortuary of Salinas and requiem mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow in St. Theodore's Church of Gonzales, following brief rites at 9:15 a.m. in the Muller Mortuary.

Burial will take place in the family plot in Gonzales Community Cemetery.

The Pine Cone's circulation this week is 3,315 papers.

The Harrison Memorial Library reading room. On leaving the reading room, the suspect, a muscular 23-year-old ex convict, grabbed Officer Fischer's pistol. Officer Fischer attempted to disarm the man, and during the struggle the robber managed to fire one shot. With the help of two local citizens, Officer Fischer was able to subdue and disarm the robber, who later admitted he had intended to kill Officer Fischer if he could have wrested the pistol free.

"That Officer Edd Fischer is hereby commended for his alertness in spotting the robber, his bravery and determination in subduing a violent and dangerous criminal, whereby he demonstrated the finest qualities of a police officer, thus bringing the greatest credit to himself, his department and his profession."

BUSINESS ASSOCIATION TO DISCUSS PARKING AT DINNER MEETING

The Carmel Business Association will have a dinner meeting on March 16. A major item on the agenda will be discussion of the parking problem in Carmel. Entertainment will be arranged by Program Chairman Bud Allen. All businessmen in the Carmel area are invited to attend. Wives are invited, too. For any businessman who doesn't belong to the business association, now is the time to join.

Cocktails at 6:30 p.m., dinner at 7:30, tax and tip $4.75 and the meeting will be in the Fairway Room of the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. Telephone Kay Scott, executive secretary, for reservations (624-2522).

Chess Tournament

The Third Monterey International Open Chess Tournament will be held on March 18 and 19 at the San Carlos Hotel in Monterey. Tournament director will be the international chess master, George Koltanowski, and the event is open to all who are or will become members of the United States Chess Federation. The tournament will be U.S.C.F. rated.

There will be a prize fund of $700. Many other awards will be given in the different groups. A trophy will be presented to the highest ranking Monterey Chess Club player.

MI-CAREME COSTUME WINNERS

Winners of the prize for the most beautiful costume at L'Alliance Francaise's Mi-Careme Fete last week were Mrs. Paul Light and Sidney Frohman clad as charming southern personalities from "Gone With the Wind." Winner in the most authentic class was Fritz Wurzmahn who represented a traditional, queued Chinese mandarin.

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Corbat came as the Empress and Empress of the Inca Empire with feather robes, gleaming clothing, golden tinted skin, marvelous masks and head-dresses, and won in the most spectacular category.

Judged the most amusing couple were Dr. and Mrs. Sorin Issvoran as Tarzan and Jane. Winners for the most original and imaginative classification were Dr. and Mrs. Deryck Nuckton, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Sigen and Clyde Lee whose creation was a handsome, hand-made duplicate of a Citroen Deux Cheveaux complete with horn and mobile silver body.

Tuesday Wedding

Mrs. Kenneth S. Walker of Pebble Beach and William F. Borland of Lake Forest, Illinois, were married on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Harold Cole in San Francisco. Only family members attended the wedding.

Mrs. Borland, daughter of Samuel F.B. Morse of Pebble Beach, has three children, Anne S. Walker, Rodman L. Hooker Jr. and Michael G. Hooker, all of San Francisco.

Mr. Borland's children are Mrs. Michael B. van Beuren of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, Anne J. Borland, who attends the University of California at Berkeley, William F. Borland Jr. and Dorothy F. Borland of Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Borland will make their home in Lake Forest.

Bruce Bixler Visits

Mrs. Ruth G. Bixler last week had her son, Bruce G. Bixler of San Francisco, visiting her for several days. Bruce who is a Carmel High School graduate and attended Monterey Peninsula College is now working for Bechtel Corp. in San Francisco. One of the highlights of Bruce's stay was the concert

Mrs. John Dowdakin won the prize for the most seductive costume. Mrs. Gerald Barron was accorded the prize for the most charming ensemble.

Other prize winners were Lloyd Ackerman and Judith Kullman who were dressed as a sheik and his Oriental partner, and Mrs. Marcelle as a Moroccan dancing girl.

Those who judged the many exotic, beautiful and original costumes were Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Adams, Mrs. Theodore Bradley, Ion Issvoran and Captain Ralph Arndt.

Mrs. Corbat and Mrs. Dowdakin were co-chairmen of the event. Credit also was given to Mrs. Jerome Carlson and Mrs. James Hathaway, co-presidents of L'Alliance Francaise; and the management of the Casa Munras; and the donors of the many prizes. All proceeds of the party will be used for the Alliance's French Language Scholarship Fund.

which he attended with his mother of the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra held at Sunset Center. "It was one of the best concerts we have ever attended here in Carmel," Mrs. Bixler stated.

This weekend Mrs. Bixler will go to Atherton to see her niece, Carolyn Beverstock, who is the student director of a production of "The Tempest" at Woodside High School where she goes to school.

Huntings Have A Son

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hunting have had a new addition to their family in the form of a baby boy by the name of Andrew Bruce. He was born on February 27 at the Community Hospital.

Jane, Andrew's 21-month-old sister, "Isn't too sure as yet if she likes all the time mommy has to spend with brother." Mrs. Hunting said, "but she thinks that he is cute so I'm sure that she will come around."

Delighted grandparents of Andrew are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hunting of Seattle, Washington, and Mrs. Edith Stoner of Kenesaw, Nebraska.

Candidates File

ness D. Martineau, teacher; Thomas M. Moore, attorney; Curtis A. Pringle, retired corporation president; Richard T. Wileon, attorney. Filing closed on March 9.

Carlson and Pringle filed just before the deadline. The former stated yesterday that he joined the Carmel Taxpayers Association during its campaign against the Monterey Peninsula Water District, "I suppose I'm still on the rolls though not active," he commented on his membership. Pringle reported he voted for the override tax on Tuesday and is not a member of the taxpayers association. He added that David Laing and Jack Chalkley are handling his and Carlson's campaign.

JOSEPH H. OENNING

Joseph Herman Oenning, a resident of Carmel Valley for the past 19 years, died on Sunday in his home on Esquiline road. He was born September 7, 1916, in Chicago, Illinois, where he grew up and in his youth was an athlete in the Golden Gloves League.

Mr. Oenning entered the Army on March 28, 1940, and served in the Rhineland with the 54th Replacement Bn. during World II. Before his discharge on November 16, 1945, he was stationed at Fort Ord and returned to make his home in Carmel and later in Carmel Valley.

He was employed for 12 years at the Carmel Builders Supply Co. and before that by the Hayward Lumber Co.

Mr. Oenning is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Jody) Bray and Miss Patricia Oenning, both of Carmel; a sister Mrs. John Rascoe of Texas; and two grandchildren.

Services for Mr. Oenning were held today in the Paul Funeral Chapel to be followed by private burial with military honors in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make contributions in the memory of Mr. Oenning may do so to the Carmel Little League, care of Jim Kelsey, P.O. Box 3119, Carmel.
